

ASSERTS REBATES FORCED GASOLINE PRICE CUT WAR

Kansas City Retailer Testifies He Undersold Competitors Who Gave Secret Refund.

DESCRIBES FIGHT TO GET SUPPLIES

Second Phase of Inquiry to Begin Aug. 20 With Questioning of Standard Company Officers.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 13.—The first phase of Attorney-General Barrett's inquiry into gasoline prices in Missouri was brought to a climax yesterday afternoon when Carl Studna, Kansas City retail gasoline dealer, testified how one company after another had refused to sell him gasoline, or deliver orders he placed, after he had instituted a price cutting war as a means of self-preservation, after losing customers because of secret rebating to customers, and that as soon as he started cutting the wholesalers and jobbers attempted reprisals.

Thus far Studna has withstood the reprisals by purchasing gasoline from independent companies, he said, and now is underselling his competitors by 2 cents with a retail price of 14.9 cents. His competitors failed to meet his last 2-cent reduction and held their price at 16.9 cents.

To Summon Officers.
This concluded the first series of hearings in the inquiry instituted by Attorney-General Barrett to determine whether anti-trust suits should be filed against the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, and possibly other oil companies operating in Missouri.

By agreement the inquiry was continued until Wednesday, Aug. 20. Attorney-General Barrett announced he would summon five officers of the Standard Oil Co. as witnesses at that hearing, and would ask for the production of certain books and records of the company. The officers to be called are Dr. William Burton, president; Allan Jackson, vice president, in charge of sales; Edward Zubert, vice president, secretary and treasurer; R. E. Clark, general auditor; and Edward Bogardus, assistant to the vice president in charge of sales. All of these officers reside in Chicago.

John D. Clark, vice president, stated at the hearing that all of the officers called would be present and that the Standard company would produce any records or books desired.

The first phase of the Attorney-General's inquiry was the questioning of nearly 30 retail dealers and company agents concerning the methods of distribution, sources of supply, methods of fixing prices and competitive practices. The second phase, which Barrett will attempt to develop at the next series of hearings, will concern the "influences higher up" in gasoline prices in Missouri.

Studna easily was the star witness of the hearing yesterday. Undersold in physique, but with a fighting jaw, he defiantly surveyed the large array of representatives of the Standard Oil Co. and other companies attending the hearing, while relating his story of how, single-handed, he had fought the large companies in Kansas City and forced the price down. He further declared he intended to keep at it as long as he could buy gasoline, as he was making a profit of three and a half cents a gallon at his reduced price and could see no reason for raising them to the public.

gasoline pumps is operated by Studna under the name of Super Oil Co., near the downtown district of Kansas City. Studna stated that when he started business he had a hard struggle for months and was unable to get the business of personal friends who operated fleets of trucks. He questioned them and learned, he said, that other companies were giving them a price of two cents under the retail quotation, and he met this.

Studna said his competitors then started supplying these customers from the tank wagon and filled the customer's trucks in the street, which he declared was contrary to the supposed practice among dealers. Studna then decided to cut the price to the public and reduced his retail price from 20.9 cents by two cents. Other companies retaliated by dropping the price to 16.9 cents. Studna came back with a further cut to 14.9, which his competitors did not meet. Then his troubles began anew.

Studna had been buying gasoline from the Mid-Continent Oil Co. of Kansas City, but was informed by that company, he testified, that the refineries were bringing pressure on it to stop sales to Studna because of his price cutting. He then placed an order with the Sinclair Oil Co., which was accepted, he asserted, but never delivered. Repeated calls to the Sinclair office brought the information that the trucks were busy and had not got around to the order. Studna said, and when he offered to send his own truck after it he was informed the company had just discontinued making delivery at the bulk station to a customer's truck.

Meanwhile the Benz Co. Co., which sold its product through a special pump at Studna's station, refused to supply him with any more gasoline. Studna testified, and attempted to remove the pump, which Studna had partially paid for on a basis of 1 cent extra charge to him for each gallon of Benz gasoline he sold. Studna retained the pump, but got no more Benz gasoline, he said.

Letters Read at Hearing.
He searched unsuccessfully through the market for other gasoline and finally began buying gasoline in the open market from the Kansas City Fuel Oil Co., which now is furnishing him with indolene. In an effort to safeguard his supply Studna, he wrote to the Vickers Refining Co. at Wichita, Kan., and received a letter assuring him the refinery had an adequate supply, and he would be supplied with his needs at the open market quotations. Five days later, Studna stated, he received a letter from the Vickers company to the effect they had so many orders they could not handle his request.

Studna read the two letters at the hearing. He stated he had erected storage tanks in an effort to keep an extra stock on hand in the event his present source of supply is cut off.

After the reprisals began, Studna testified, he was visited by representatives of the Monarch Oil Co., Sinclair company and other companies, who attempted to persuade him to raise his price to the level set by other dealers, and he refused. Studna said they told him that if he did not raise his price the Standard company would start cutting the price further and "run all of them."

Allee Visited Him.
Studna asserted George S. Allee of Kansas City, secretary of the Missouri Oil Men's Association, spent half a day at his station urging him to go up to the price of the other dealers.

Allee had testified earlier and denied that he ever had tried to prevent dealers from cutting prices or urged them to enter price agreements. He denied also that he called to Jefferson City several weeks ago to straighten out a price cut by a local firm, but stated he "just dropped into town." He admitted holding a conversation with a member of the firm, J. E. Wells, a member of the firm, had testified the previous day that Allee called on him to stop sales to Studna because of his price cutting. He then placed an order with the Sinclair Oil Co., which was accepted, he asserted, but never delivered. Repeated calls to the Sinclair office brought the information that the trucks were busy and had not got around to the order. Studna said, and when he offered to send his own truck after it he was informed the company had just discontinued making delivery at the bulk station to a customer's truck.

Subsequently Mrs. McBride announced the $250,000 gift for the high school, and in January, 1921, presented the Endowment Fund Committee of St. Louis University $25,000. She thereby made herself eligible for a place upon the bronze tablet, perpetuating the names of the founders of the university, and put her name in the campaign to raise a $2,000,000 endowment.

DRIVER IN FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT IS EXONERATED

Elmer Cantoni Testifies He Swerved Machine to Avoid Colliding With Street Car.

A Coroner's verdict of accident, exonerating Elmer Cantoni of 4218 Natural Bridge avenue, who turned today in the death of Mike Chiodini, 27, of 5309 Shaw avenue, a passenger in Cantoni's automobile when it struck the street car on Monday evening.

Cantoni testified he was driving in the tracks behind an eastbound car, which checked its speed suddenly in front of 4429 Natural Bridge avenue. He said he applied the brakes of the automobile, but to avoid striking the car ahead, swerved to the left and into the path of an oncoming westbound car. Cantoni suffered cuts, while two other passengers in the automobile, a brother and cousin, were uninjured.

Regarding conditions throughout the state, the announcement said: "The strong call for men in the harvest fields materially aided in reducing unemployment in this state during the past month. Lead and zinc mining showed renewed activity, while improved weather conditions are enabling highway construction to go forward on a large scale, with an increased demand for common labor."

Large numbers of common laborers were directed from St. Louis to the harvest fields, the announcement said. The demand for building tradesmen increased somewhat during July, but there are plenty of men already here to meet the needs. The building outlook for the next 60 days is better than for the past few months. High water halted riprap operations on the Mississippi River but rail crews are working again. Farm labor is in fair demand, particularly for threshing and corn plowing. The demand for clerical help is somewhat better than in June."

Tonight the American Scouts will entertain Prof. John D. Prince, American Minister to Denmark, at a camp dinner, after which the Minister, as the guest of the Radio Club, will broadcast an address to the Boy Scouts of the World, which will be repeated in 13 languages.

MRS. W. C. McBRIDE DIES; HAD BEEN ILL FOR A YEAR

Widow of Multi-Millionaire Oil Operator Expires at Home — Was 62 Years Old.

Mrs. Katherine Mangan McBride, widow of William Cullen McBride, multimillionaire oil operator, died at 6 a. m. today at the residence, 29 Washington terrace, after an illness of about a year. Death was due to lung disease complications and was unexpected. She was 62 years old. Though in failing health for more than a year, Mrs. McBride became actively ill a few weeks ago. At her bedside were the four surviving daughters and their husbands—Mrs. William D. Orthwein Jr. of the Oxford Apartments, place, Mrs. I. D. Kelley of 35 Eastland, Mrs. Baifour of 8 Craib of New York City, and Mrs. Birch O. Mahaffey of 29 Washington terrace.

Gave $250,000 for New School.
The funeral will be Saturday at 10 a. m. at the New Cathedral, the rites being before the marble altar which was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. McBride. This was one of several large gifts they made to the Catholic church.

The gift of the New Cathedral, the rites being before the marble altar which was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. McBride. This was one of several large gifts they made to the Catholic church.

Mrs. McBride was born in Chautauque, N. Y. The family removed to St. Louis in 1908 from Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. McBride was known to have made large charitable bequests. He was an independent oil operator, with extensive interests in Texas and Oklahoma.

The will also mentioned that no bequests were made to religious or charitable objects, or to friends or servants, the testament expressing confidence in Mrs. McBride's judgment as to making such gifts from the income.

Subsequently Mrs. McBride announced the $250,000 gift for the high school, and in January, 1921, presented the Endowment Fund Committee of St. Louis University $25,000. She thereby made herself eligible for a place upon the bronze tablet, perpetuating the names of the founders of the university, and put her name in the campaign to raise a $2,000,000 endowment.

There are indications that the ransom may extend over a number of years. Gilpatrick told friends a year ago that his funds were so low that he could not build on his half of an island at Juniper Point, Md., where he owns jointly with his close friend, Harry Fosdick of New York, a summer home that he had planned. He was not sure that he would be able to send his daughter to college and he wept in considering the doubt involved in the question of the education of his sons.

Gilpatrick was the son of parents in modest circumstances and entered the bank here from high school 25 years ago.

On June 30, last, the bank reported deposits of $2,330,370. The deposits included $986,968 in deposits subject to checks and $64,869 in time deposits. The capital stock paid in was $150,000. The bank had surplus funds of $100,000 and net undivided profits of $51,960.

Business Men Name Committee.
Four hundred business men met yesterday to seek some solution of the ransom problem of the town. A committee of 15 was appointed to seek a conference with the bank directors in an effort to secure an authentic statement on the condition of the property and to cooperate with the directors in an attempt to reopen the bank.

That the financial situation in the community is acute was admitted by prominent men who attended the meeting. Payrolls will come due at the end of the week, merchants are at a loss to know what to do with the daily receipts of their stores and many have bills that must be paid soon. The funds of many of them are in the closed bank.

State funds of approximately $100,000 are involved, through deposits in the commercial department of the bank and the State must take its loss, if there is to be a loss to the depositors, on the same terms as other depositors.

Announcement that Treasurer Gilpatrick had made an assignment to the First National Bank of St. Louis, and that the loss sustained by reason of his acts was made by Walter H. Gilpatrick, his brother, today.

PUTNAM, CONN., BANK SHORTAGE NOW $262,000

Institution So Badly Wrecked It Can Never Be Reopened, Says Examiner — Investigation Continues

By the Associated Press.

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 13.—The First National Bank of Putnam, with resources of $2,330,000, has been wrecked so badly by the operations of its cashier, G. Harold Gilpatrick, who is also treasurer of the State of Connecticut, that it is being investigated.

With a shortage of $262,000 in Liberty Bonds and other negotiable securities already disclosed, investigation of the accounts of Gilpatrick was continued today by the bank.

Funds entrusted to him aggregated about $200,000. These also are being investigated. In connection with the bank's accounts, State Treasurer were said at the State Capitol at Hartford to be in good condition.

Meanwhile Gilpatrick is at a hospital, probably blinded by a shot that he fired into his temple last Thursday. Physicians say he has an even chance for recovery. The First National Bank, this town's only bank, is closed by action of its board of directors, with more than $1,500,000 of deposits.

Investigation is being made of possible forgeries in connection with mortgage deeds that Gilpatrick gave to friends who had turned over large amounts of cash to him for the bank. His personal box of papers, the contents of which he is said to have placed at more than $100,000, have been found to contain little of value.

Invested Funds for All.
It seemed as if everyone in Putnam took money to Gilpatrick to invest. Rich men and poor men alike gave him their confidence, and when it was announced that he had "shot himself," leaving a note for his wife saying that his affairs were heavily involved, it was believed that his troubles were only temporary and relatively trivial.

In his will Mr. McBride directed that his estate, valued at several million dollars, be left in trust for the widow and children, to be controlled by Mrs. McBride, who should name her successor. It directed further that the trust should continue until 21 years after the death of the last of the daughters, and should be for the benefit of Mrs. McBride, their daughters and direct heirs, the income being divided into five equal parts.

The will also mentioned that no bequests were made to religious or charitable objects, or to friends or servants, the testament expressing confidence in Mrs. McBride's judgment as to making such gifts from the income.

Subsequently Mrs. McBride announced the $250,000 gift for the high school, and in January, 1921, presented the Endowment Fund Committee of St. Louis University $25,000. Loeb and Leopold Sane, Alienists Hold line. If scientific he may have phantasies regarding a scientific discovery."

"I saw nothing in my contact with the gentleman," said Dr. Patrick, in reference to Leopold, whom he had studied soon after arrest for murdering the Franks boy, "to lead me to suppose he had any mental disease."

Loeb and Leopold sat with stolid, unchanging faces, as they heard the witness proclaim them sane. Leopold rested his elbows on a chair arm and cushioned his chin with his hand. Loeb, hands in his lap, stared at the witness. Occasionally, as has been their habit throughout the hearing, the youths held whispered conversations.

Loeb's "Good Judgment."
Loeb's statement of a feeling of tallied inferiority was perfectly natural, Dr. Patrick said, and could not be termed an inferiority complex because Leopold actually was inferior in athletics. "He sits up himself with good judgment," said the witness. "He also sizes up his intellectual self with good judgment."

Loeb's statement of a dread of feeling pain goes with a sense of emotion, said Dr. Patrick. Defense alienists called Leopold's morbid fear of pain the reaction of a diseased mentality in which the mind had been dwarfed.

The same hypothetical questions asked Dr. Patrick were put to Dr. Church, and the replies tallied with those of the alienist who had preceded him on the stand.

Case of the Pinea Gland.
"That X-ray picture of the pineal gland in a youth of 19 indicated it had calcified would be without significance," said Dr. Church. He said that very frequently the pineal gland contained a quantity of gritty matter, known as brain sand, and that under the X-ray it would appear the pineal gland had calcified. The gland calcified at no special age, he said.

Dr. H. S. Hulbert, defense alienist, who advanced a theory of diseased endocrine glands, of which the pineal is one, had testified that calcification of Leopold's pineal gland indicated abnormality.

Dr. Church said phantasies were daydreams which everyone has, and had a relation to character, and conduct, but did not compel conduct nor shape character.

Dr. Church, replying to a hypothetical question which took in all Leopold's physiological eccentricities as remarked on by the defense, said none of them denoted mental instability. The noon recess was taken.

A "Pretty Tough Job."
Dr. Patrick, resuming the witness stand after the recess and after objection by the defense, began pointing out what he thought were inconsistencies in the conclusions drawn from the "Bowman-Hulbert report."

"I can't point them all out now. It was a pretty tough job for an hour and a half," he said, referring to his brief review of the report. Dr. Patrick referred to the twice-made statement that Leopold was revealed by the X-ray to have small sella turcica and said he could not see any statement in the X-ray report, and that it was a matter of no moment if Leopold did have a small sella turcica, as it would make no difference in the pituitary gland.

The statement that Leopold's reaction to pain was sweating, weakness and fainting was obviously exaggerated, said Dr. Patrick. "Pain is a relative term," he said. "No one would expect all that to happen from minor pain; it might from excessive pain."

That Leopold always kept his logical mind was not in consonance with statements regarding his split personality, said the witness. He next found a statement regarding Leopold having hallucinations and said it was an unwarranted conclusion as Leopold's experiences were ordinary.

"The statement was made he indulged in phantasies in an extreme degree," said Dr. Patrick. "There is no evidence in the report of an extreme degree. He has phantasies like the rest of us, some tell 'everything that was done.'"

Dr. Church then launched into a detailed story of the crime as he said it had been recited to him by Loeb and Leopold. The defendants eyed the witness indifferently as he went over the old ground. His story of the crime told, Dr. Church continued:

"I asked Leopold why he did it and he almost trembled and answered he did not know why. Loeb said they were aware at all times of what they were doing, but that they were not quitters. I asked if they did not want to beat the detective forces and they said yes, that probably was part of it."

"During the taking of a flashlight picture of the murder car,"

In the jail yard, a photographer set off a flashlight charge and Loeb collapsed against the wall. Leopold looked at him sneeringly and said what I understood to be 'Poor weakling.'"

"I asked Leopold what the ransom had to do with it and he said it was a secondary consideration but of course was of importance. They also said it would be divided half and half and it was understood none of the money was to be spent in Chicago within a year, but it might be spent abroad."

Sharbaro asked whether Dr. Church had an opinion as to Leopold's mental condition when the crime was committed. "There was no mental disease of any nature whatsoever," replied the doctor. "The young man was entirely oriented. He knew who he was, where he was, the time of day, his memory was good, his powers of observation were normal." As to Leopold, Dr. Church said: "There was no advance of any mental disease. He was perfectly oriented, of good memory, extraordinary intellectual attainments, and of good judgment."

The same hypothetical questions asked Dr. Patrick were put to Dr. Church, and the replies tallied with those of the alienist who had preceded him on the stand.

$1,000,000 Fire Near Detroit.
By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 12.—Fire, starting shortly after midnight, destroyed the plant of the Dwight Lumber Co., at River Rouge, a suburb, and did damage estimated at more than $1,000,000. For a time the flames threatened the entire residence district of the suburb and the local authorities called on the Detroit Fire Department for aid.

FIRE REVEALS LIQUOR CARGO ON TRUCK FROM ST. LOUIS
Attendees Pile and 230 Gallons of Alcohol in Found Hidden Behind Crates of Tomatoes.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DECATUR, Ill., Aug. 12.—Loaded with 230 gallons of alcohol in five-gallon containers, and camouflaged with 26 crates of tomatoes on top, a St. Louis motor truck is in the hands of the Decatur police and the two attendants are being sought.

The truck is a new one bearing Missouri license No. 21-260, St. Louis tag 1935, and labeled Metropolitan Truck Service, 1607 Washington street.
The truck was an innocent-looking affair with crates of tomatoes on top covered with blankets. Like a commission merchant's truck, it was passing through Decatur at 1 o'clock this morning when the oil pump on the engine went wrong and soon was ablaze. The two attendants abandoned the truck.
Residents, seeing the fire, soon extinguished it, after some of the wiring had been burned out. It was towed to police headquarters. The drivers had passed safely through the city and were at the eastern suburbs on their way towards Champaign when the fire started.

WIFE CONFESSES KILLING FORMER DRY AGENT
New York Woman, Held for Murder, Stabbed Husband During Fight.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Francis Evelyn McMullan today confessed that her husband, Stewart N. McMullan, former prohibition agent and ex-convict, was fatally stabbed during a fight with her in their home last Saturday night, according to the police. She had previously maintained that the wound, which caused McMullan's death had been inflicted before he returned home.
Mrs. McMullan, according to the police, admitted in her confession, that she threw from a window into the back yard the knife with which her husband was killed. After the discovery of the man's body, she had been held on a charge of murder. McMullan shot and killed Harry Carlton, a chauffeur, four years ago, but he was acquitted on the claim that Carlton had attempted to stab him.

LACK OF EQUIPMENT COSTS FEDERAL BARGE LINE $13,800
200,000-Bushel Wheat Shipment Turned Down Due to Goltra Legal Controversy.
Shortage of equipment due to the legal controversy between the Government barge line and Edward F. Goltra for possession of 17 barges and four towboats, now tied up here in Federal court order pending litigation, made it necessary that the barge line yesterday refuse 200,000 bushels of grain for immediate shipment to New Orleans.
That refusal cost the Federal line $13,800 in freight charges, and cost the shipper about $7500, the difference he will have to pay at rail rates.

Youth Hit by Train and Killed
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 12.—Ernest Cox, 20 years old, of Fidelity, Ark., was killed when he was struck by the pilot of Missouri Pacific train No. 7 at 5 a. m. today near Trenton. He and Robert McDaniels, of Greenwood, Ark., were walking along between the railroad tracks when Cox, who had ventured too near to the main line tracks, was struck.

FLYING CIRCUS AVIATORS HURT ON HOMEWARD TRIP
Lieut. Albrook and Private Dickinson Seriously Injured Near Rantoul, Ill., and Latter May Die.
By the Associated Press.
RANTOUL, Ill., Aug. 12.—Lieut. Frank F. Albrook, pilot, and Private W. A. Dickinson, both stationed at the Wilbur Wright Flying Field at Fairfield, O., were injured when their airplane crashed while they were taking off at Chanute Field here yesterday.
The two fliers were returning to their home field from Scott Field, near Belleville, Ill., where they had participated in a flying circus Sunday, and had stopped here on the way home. Their machine reached an altitude of about 200 feet over the field, then suddenly fell. Albrook suffered serious injuries but it is believed he will recover. Dickinson's skull was fractured and he was severely cut and bruised. Doctors said he would probably die. The home address of neither man was known here.

CONSIDERATE OF HER HUSBAND
Wife Files Bigamy Charges; Gives Him Lunch to Eat in Jail.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Mrs. May Cleary Snyder of 1437 Park avenue is considerate of her husband, William Snyder.
She appeared yesterday with their two children in the Tombs Court to charge William with bigamy. She told how he married her in Stratford, Conn., Sept. 1, 1917, and then married someone else at the Municipal Building, March 1, of this year. William, who is 24, admitted the charge and was held by Magistrate Marx in $1000 bail for the grand jury. Then, as William was being taken to prisoners' pen, Mrs. Snyder No. 1 stepped over and pressed something into his hand. It was a package of lunch she had put up for him.

Gets Pleasant Surprise

"About six months ago my father was very sick with his stomach, which had been troubling him for several years. Three doctors said he had cancer and one said it was gall stones—all agreed an operation was necessary, but on account of his age I was afraid to make it. I told a friend about it, who said his wife had been cured by taking May's Wonderful Remedy. I at once bought a bottle for father, and he is now as strong as a bear, and can eat more than and cabbage than any three men. It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allures the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and tubercular ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will cure or remove the cause of indigestion. May's Wonderful Remedy is sold at all drug stores, Green-Coughlin, Johnson Bros. Drug Co., and drugists everywhere.

LONDON PRESS SEES PLOT IN SUDAN CLASH

Charge Cairo Society Is Working to Oust British and Give Sudan to Egypt.

By the Associated Press.
CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 13.—A demonstration took place this afternoon in the Esbekiya Gardens in sympathy with the recent disturbance at Atbara. Complete calm now prevails throughout the Sudan.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 13.—The London newspapers this morning make a big display of the disturbances in the Sudan, which they attribute to a conspiracy by interested persons in Egypt aiming to oust the British from the Sudan and establish Egyptian rule over it. Agitation to this end has been in progress for some months, the main organizers being, it is said, the White Flag Society of Cairo.

It is recalled that the Egyptian Premier, Zagloul Pasha, told the Chamber in June that Egypt would insist upon complete evacuation of the Sudan by Great Britain and afterwards the British Ministers announced in Parliament that the British on no account would renounce their responsibilities to the Sudan and the Sudanese.

The editorial writers, while not believing that the present trouble will necessarily have serious consequences, foresee a possible regrettable delay in settling the Egyptian problem and even a conceivable cancellation of the British negotiations with Zagloul Pasha. Editorial opinion strongly supports the Government in its Sudanese policy. The Times says: "Either to admit the Egyptian pretensions to the Sudan or to leave the Sudan to the Sudanese would be an inconceivable folly and iniquity."

The latest dispatches from Khartoum and Cairo state that the actual casualties in the clash in Atbara were four killed and 15 wounded, that no Egyptian troops were present and that the troops who fired the shots were Sudanese Arabs, acting apparently without orders and under extreme provocation of the rioters. British troops and airplanes are reported to have left Cairo yesterday to reinforce the garrison at Khartoum.

Atbara Affair Preceded by Acts of Violence by Egyptians.

By the Associated Press.
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 12.—An official communique issued today regarding the Atbara affair says the soldiers of the Egyptian Railway Battalion committed considerable sabotage within the railway works, destroying automobiles and machinery with long iron bars and setting fire to the railway offices.

They refused to respond to the moderating counsels of their commanding officers and the senior officials of the Sudan Railways. It is declared. A court of inquiry has been established by order of the Ruler.

It appears, according to the communique, that the order to fire was given by a lieutenant of the Sudanese Arab Mounted Rifles who instructed a subject to make the men fire over the heads of the Egyptian soldiers who were attacking them.

Agricultural Schools Increase.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12.—A pronounced increase in the demand for agricultural courses in grade and high schools of the State, and for vocational agriculture departments in schools, has been noted during the past year, according to J. E. Hill, State Supervisor of Agricultural Education. Thirteen additional schools in Illinois have made application for State and Federal aid in agriculture and are establishing new departments of vocational agriculture for the coming year, according to Mr. Hill. They are at Alvin, Blauvelt, Cornell, Clinton, Fairbury, Geneva, Hanover, Lanark, Melvin, Milledgeville, Princeville, Sandoval and Stanford.

Why This Opening Sale Is Two Weeks Late

It was late in July before manufacturers were able to devote their attention and energies to the production of Fall apparel. For weeks before that time the market had been paralyzed by strikes and walk-outs. We were confronted with the alternative of holding our opening Coat Sale at the usual time with Coats produced very early in the Summer or to postpone it in order to give Kline patrons the newest, last-minute Winter fashions. And this event will most assuredly be worth waiting for, for every Coat shows unmistakably the style influences of the last thirty days. PERSHING DEFENDS PROGRAM FOR MOBILIZATION TEST

Tells Citizen-Soldiers Plan Is "Most Important Event" for Peace.

CAMP DEVENS, Mass., Aug. 12.—Gen. Pershing, here yesterday, told more than 2500 members of the citizens' training military training camp reserve officers that "this Defense day is the most important event ever undertaken in America in the interests of peace" and scored the criticism it has aroused as "unsound and uncalled for."

Declaring that the proposed program for Sept. 12 is merely a method of instruction to officers of the regular army, National Guard and reserves to prepare them for their duties in a national emergency, he said, "only by actually facing the problem can these officers realize the extent of their task in case of war. We all pray," he added, "that there will be no more war, but there has been no great change in the world since the days in 1914 and 1917, when war stole upon us in the night."

DAVIS AND DONAHEY NAMED IN OHIO

Republican Winner Leads Candidate Said to Be Backed By K. K. K.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—Harry L. Davis of Cleveland, former Governor of Ohio, was nominated for re-election to that office on the Republican ticket at yesterday's statewide primary. A. Victor Donahey, the present Governor, was chosen to oppose him on the Democratic ticket.

Davis, who has served one term as the State's chief executive, triumphed in a field of eight aspirants for the Republican nomination, leading Joseph B. Ober, reputed candidate of the Ku Klux Klan, by 50,000 on returns from 7136 out of 8200 precincts.

Donahey swept aside James C. R. Beatty, his only opponent, who made his stand on an anti-Ku Klux platform, with a torrent of ballots which gave him a lead of nearly 100,000 in returns from 6869 precincts.

How Trailers Ran.

Seiber seems firmly entrenched in second place in the Republican race, on the basis of available returns. James A. White, former superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, is running third, approximately 9000 votes behind Seiber.

White was trailed by C. Homer Durand of Coshocton, advocate of the legalization of light wines and beer; State Senator J. F. Burke of Ellettsburg; and George B. Harris, Cleveland attorney, in that order. Congressman John L. Cable of Lima, was in the seventh position, and Harry Smith, negro publisher of Cleveland, in eighth.

The vote on Republican nomination for the governorship in 7136 precincts is: Davis, 142,340; Seiber, 82,414; White, 73,010; Durand, 44,425; Burke, 39,631; Harris, 33,850; Cable, 22,587; Smith, 12,512. The vote on Democratic Governor in 6869 precincts is: Donahey, 143,358; Beatty, 34,991.

Mrs. Upton Beaten.

Ohio's incumbent Congressmen, who sought renomination, with the possible exception of one, probably won.

Many of them faced strong opposition and some of the races required nearly complete returns before the result was determined, but today Isaac M. Foster, opposed for the Republican nomination in the Tenth District by State Senator Tom Jenkins, was the only one whose success seemed in doubt.

John G. Cooper of the Nineteenth District had probably the hardest battle. He was opposed by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton for the Republican nomination, but he won.

Klan opposition was said to have detracted from Mrs. Upton's vote. In spite of Mrs. Upton's defeat at least one woman will be on the Ohio congressional ticket. Curiously enough, Cooper will be her opponent. She is Phoebe Sutiff Warren, who was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Leac R. Sherwood, patriarch of the National House of Representatives, again will be on the ticket. He was nominated without opposition on the Democratic ticket in the Ninth District. He was 59 years old.

GRAIN HARVEST IN TSARITSYN, IN VOLGA REGION, IS HARD HIT

Drouth. Wind and Heat Have Destroyed Most of Crop—Moscow Aids in Relief for 400,000.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

TSARITSYN, Russia, Aug. 12.—Tsaritsyn, which ranks high in importance among the Volga grain growing areas, has suffered the loss of most of its grain harvest. Lack of rain in May and June and high winds and terrific heat have destroyed it. With the co-operation of Moscow remedial and relief measures to maintain and restart 400,000 natives are being undertaken by the local authorities.

The rain of the harvest has already claimed more than half the people of the city of Tsaritsyn as its victims. M. Solomentzer, acting President of Tsaritsyn, describes the harvest there this year as non-existent, but says he is satisfied that the province will be able to alleviate the coming distress. One hundred thousand persons are to be employed in road making and repairs and 300,000 in repairing old and creating new irrigation works. Employment will be found for the people as far as possible within their own districts. In all, one-third of the population will receive relief. Much is hoped for from the revival of irrigation. About 6000 acres have already been irrigated with good results.

U. S. Freighter Aground in Orient.

By the Associated Press. TOKIO, Aug. 12.—The United States Shipping Board freighter, West Kalam, is aground on the rocks near Fude Island, 40 miles northeast of Keelung, Formosa, according to a Keelung dispatch to the "Nichi Nichi." The vessel went ashore in a storm and has a large hole in her hull. Japanese destroyers are proceeding to the scene of the wreck.

is Arnold M. Moore, and he has been a member of the Canton, S. D. Camp No. 101 of the I. O. O. F. since 1888, when it was organized as the first camp in the State. Moore joined the lodge for the insurance benefits and has never since.

Agreement Not Yet Reached on Details and Date of Evacuation of the Ruhr
by Allied Troops.

BELGIANS ARE NOT SUPPORTING FRENCH

Delay in Reaching Understanding Is Not Believed to Imperil Success of the Conference.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The conference held by French, Belgian and German representatives in Downing street this morning and this afternoon in an effort to reach a settlement of the Ruhr evacuation problem, ended without arriving at a solution. When Premier Herriot and Thunberg and Chancellor Marx left Downing street at 7:30 p. m., after the afternoon conference, M. Herriot said that although an agreement had been reached, everything was going well. The Premier will meet again tomorrow, he said.

In consequence of the failure of the Premier to reach an agreement this morning, the meeting of the council of 14 set for 4 p. m., at which it was hoped the announcement of a settlement would be made, was called off to enable the outside conversations to be continued.

It was announced after the morning conference that the meeting of the "Big Fourteen" would be held tomorrow morning. "Today is the most critical day of the conference," Dr. Marx, the German chancellor declared, "and newspaper correspondents this afternoon just before going into the clock conference with Premier Herriot of France and Premier Thunberg of Belgium and their French and Belgian associates to resume discussion."

"I go to this afternoon's conference with a feeling of great responsibility, as the questions to be considered are so vital to Germany and the other countries involved," Dr. Marx continued. "But I go filled with hope, and if we reach an agreement I think the most important part of the conference will have passed."

Chancellor Marx expressed his satisfaction with the equality of treatment the Germans had received from all the members of the conference, especially with the manner in which Premier MacDonald had placed his time at the disposal of the Germans outside the meeting. He said the Germans had done everything possible to promote speeding the conference and were anxious to be helpful in creating a better understanding among all peoples and in promoting peace.

Belgians Want to Get Out. Prime Minister MacDonald has turned over the big question of the evacuation of the Ruhr to Premier Herriot of France. Premier Thunberg of Belgium and the two leaders of the German delegation, Chancellor Marx and Prime Minister MacDonald, the British Premier withdrew while the attempts were being made to hammer out a settlement of the problems of the Ruhr and the proposed commercial treaties. The negotiations dragged discouragingly.

The Belgians are not supporting the French in their efforts to promote the evacuation of the Ruhr. Premier Thunberg frankly says he does not want to continue holding Belgian troops in the Ruhr, as the Belgians people are tired of the expense. The German industrialists, especially the dye manufacturers, are bitterly opposing the French demands for deliveries of goods beyond 1924, and there are many other questions in connection with the proposed deliveries of goods under the report of the third committee, which the "Big Fourteen" discussed vainly at yesterday afternoon's meeting.

Finance Ministers to Meet. The French are endeavoring to get assurances as to the terms of the new commercial treaties to be negotiated with Germany at an early date and there are differences between the delegates and experts of the two countries. Predictions that the conference will be concluded Thursday have given way to forecasts that Friday is the earliest possible time of settlement, and many of the delegates believe that a settlement cannot come this week. There is a general feeling, however, that the points of difference between the French and the Germans now have been brought within negotiable limits. Both countries want a settlement so badly that no delegate believes the conference will break up without action.

The American Government has been known, through Ambassador Kellogg, that it wishes to be represented at the conference of allied Finance Ministers which is to convene in Paris shortly after the close of the present gathering.

THREE MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS DANGLE 5 HOURS HELPLESS OVER 300-FOOT PRECIPICE

CHAMONIX, France, Aug. 13.—Three Italian mountain climbers underwent the terrifying experience yesterday of hanging for five hours from a rope over a 300-foot precipice before being rescued.

Unaccompanied by guides, they had reached the summit of the Aiguille de Grepon, an 11,000-foot peak, without mishap, and were on the way back when one slipped, dragging the others with him down the side of the mountain.

The rope between the second and third men, however, caught on a rock as they went over the edge of the precipice. The man lowest on the rope attempted to get a footing until his comrades shouted that he risked loosening their support.

The accident had been seen from below and a rescue party was dispatched. The trio were pulled up with great difficulty and after long efforts, and were brought to Chamoni. One had a broken leg and the others were covered with bruises.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE NAMED FOR LA FOLLETTE CAMPAIGN

Wife of Tariff Commissioner Cogan in Charge of Organization Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With Senator La Follette's approval, the task of organizing women voters in behalf of his candidacy for the presidency has been placed in the hands of women.

Mrs. Mabel C. Cogan of Colorado, wife of Commissioner Cogan of the Tariff Commission, has been named chairman of a committee of women who will have charge of the work. It is planned to have a membership of at least 100, and to give representation to every State. The committee will maintain headquarters here and in Chicago, where Mrs. Glenn Plumb, Illinois, in charge of activities in the West, will be stationed.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The executive board of the Illinois State Federation of Labor today made public a resolution concurring in the endorsement by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor of the La Follette and Wheeler candidacies. The board urged the re-election of Len Small, Republican, Governor.

The executive board of the International Seaman's Union of America has adopted a resolution endorsing La Follette, Secretary Nolan announced.

RAIDERS IN NORTH DAKOTA Governor Calls on Citizens to Deal With Roaming I. W. W.

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 13.—North Dakota towns have begun responding to the appeal of Gov. Nestos, that effective measures be taken to curb the activities of gangs that have raided numerous points in the State during the last two weeks, and to deal with roaming groups of I. W. W., whom the Governor charged are a real menace to honest labor, but to prey upon working men, business men and farmers.

The Parshall Commercial Club voted that every business place arm itself with a sawed-off shotgun. As a result, 50 such guns were ordered bought. Sentinel Butte reported that a systematic defense plan was organized at a meeting of citizens. Details were not made public.

RUSSIAN TERRORISTS ROUTED Rumanian Troops Surprise Band and Drive Them Over Frontier.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 12.—Newspaper dispatches received here say that Rumanian troops surprised a band of terrorists in the Danube river, near the Black Sea coast, intending to pillage the Rumanian village of Shaba. The terrorists escaped over the frontier after a struggle, but abandoned their arms and munitions.

The activities of raiding bands, operating over the Russian frontier, were recently made the basis of a complaint from Poland to the Soviet Government. The Poles alleged that the raiders received military training under regular Soviet officers.

COOLIDGE GETS FARM REPORT Is Told Agriculture Is on Road to Recovery.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Agriculture has definitely turned the corner and is on the road to permanent recovery, Eugene Meyer, managing director of the War Finance Corporation, reported today to President Coolidge after a trip of inspection through the West. Accompanied by C. T. Jaffrey, president of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, Meyer conferred for more than an hour with the President.

"Conditions everywhere in the West," Meyer said, "are improving rapidly. It is the most radical improvement in agriculture in years. The most hopeful sign is the trend toward purchasing of farm lands. The farmers are finally getting out of the hole."

By the Associated Press. MADRID, Aug. 13.—The military directorate today issued a communique, saying that the news from Morocco was not satisfactory, that the enemy natives had surrounded another position in the line and that the Spanish troops needed reinforcements.

By the Associated Press. MELILLA, Morocco, Aug. 13.—News of heavy fighting in both the Spanish and French protectorates of Morocco is contained in dispatches reaching Melilla from the interior of the country. The most important encounter is reported to have been between the French colonial forces and Moorish rebels. The Moors are said to have captured three blockhouses and forced the Frenchmen to withdraw. French reinforcements have been ordered from Argelia to aid the besieged French troops.

Spanish native troops, commanded by Abdel Matich, also have been engaged in fighting with rebels, who are reported to have suffered losses of more than 100 men killed and wounded. The rebels are declared to have been routed. Among the rebel leaders are prominent chiefs of the Kabyle and Beniuzin tribes, two Caid of the Beniuzin tribe and a brother of the chief of the Mizia tribe.

By the Associated Press. CEUTA, Spanish Morocco, Aug. 13.—Moroccan rebels are said to have broken through the French front between Fez and Taza, after defeating and routing the French troops at Ouarga, in the French zone in Morocco.

The rebels were in command of Caid Kuchla Bagdad.

Military Directorate Seeks to Form New Civilian Party.

By the Associated Press. MADRID, Aug. 13.—The military directorate is engaged in drafting a constitution for a patriotic union, a new political party which has been formed and which is designed to replace the directorate and restore a civilian government in Spain.

Generals Hermosa, Calvo and Sotelo, and other persons close to the military directorate, have been conferring frequently recently in an effort to reach an agreement as to the proper foundation upon which to build the new party, and also for the purpose of organizing a provisional executive council to take over the reins of the party, pending the holding of a national convention at which a constitution will be ratified and permanent officers elected. Instructions for the establishment of branches of the new party in all parts of Spain will be sent shortly to the Governors of the provinces. Committees are to be formed in every hamlet, village, town and city. They will be responsible to provincial committees, which, in turn, are to report to the central committee in Madrid. An earnest attempt is to be called for, on the part of the leaders of the old parties dominated by the provincial boards. The platform will have patriotism as its keynote. All Spaniards are eligible to membership in the party except outspoken anti-monarchists. Rich and poor are to be treated alike. Distinctions gained by persons under former governments for conspicuous political services are to be entirely disregarded and only loyalty to the party, the country and the king will be recognized.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Cost of Music at Movies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN REPLY to W. E. T. regarding his protest of higher "movie" admission fees I can give him the solution regarding the advance in prices. The musicians were given a slight increase in salary which they honestly deserved. The managers insist upon steady, grinding music and have to pay laborers' wages for same. Anyone who begrudges the men their dues should patronize the neighborhood movies and cheap shows, which can always be located somewhere. St. Louis is and has been rather slow about consistent salaries and accordingly slow in charging big admission fees. Any large city has at least a few high priced theaters. The people who object to paying the price are not necessarily invited or missed when absent. Has W. E. T. or H. R. M. ever felt any concern for the humanity side of the question. No! They only go to be amused, to enjoy themselves. Hence, the increase. Since there is no solicitation among either managers, patrons, or employees the question can only be settled in terms of money, and so it will continue. Shows open at all hours for the convenience of everybody. Steady, peppy, classical and jazz music every minute of the time. Grind and grind on for the satisfaction of the public. The men who help to make the show complete with music, never have a Sunday or holiday. They are always on the job day and night and many of them are supporting families. So consider, "old top," consider.

Are Rents Falling?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A NEW song that will soon be a big hit, "For Rent Sign Blues." Not so popular with the rent hog landlords and real estate agents, but to the people at large.

I have been looking around and find plenty of flats for rent. Upon leaving, landlord asked if I would be interested and he reduced the rent from $15 a month as much as $12.50 a month. They used the old rag of looking for a good tenant. Gentlemen, there will be plenty of the rent hogs looking for a good tenant shortly, then who will sing the blues?

The Treasury Department Investigation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WISH to express a protest against the hostile attitude assumed in certain quarters toward the investigation into the affairs of the Treasury Department now being conducted by a Senate Committee.

After the Fall, Forbes and Daugherty affairs, such an air of outraged innocence is being paid to influential corporations as tax refunds. From personal observation I know that by far the great majority of men employed in the Treasury Department are honest and misguidably paid public servants. They should not be condemned because there may be a few men who are unworthy of public confidence. For the vindication of these men a full, open and thorough investigation should be conducted. If as a result a few more heads have to fall, and it matters not whether they be Republicans or Democrats, I am sure that this country will survive also this calamity.

To restore public confidence in governmental departments and to vindicate the integrity of a large group of public servants this investigation should be permitted to go on unhampered by the political schemes and technical obstructions of which there is such an abundance in Washington.

The Tonic of Laughter.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

FOR good, wholesome, humorous reading, along with its pages of comic pictures, there is nothing like the Post-Dispatch to refresh and stimulate tired feelings and bring into action those muscles that actively respond to a good laugh. I know by experience, for I have talked in my big arm chair in my office after reading medical journals in trying to learn and find out how to treat many complicated cases that baffle the best minds of the medical profession and I become mentally weary until I pick up my daily Post-Dispatch and turn to the comic page. And there I take my mental elixir compound of Jiggs and Maggie and side desert of Mutt and Jeff and "Can You Beat It." The soothing palliative nerve tonic is the panacea of ticklers—Irvin Cobb, Ring Lardner's Monday Letters and The Man on the Hand Box.

This is my prescription for indigestion. Read the funny page just after eating.

SENATOR WALSH'S FACTS.

Interest in the ceremony at Clarkburg Monday night naturally centered in what Mr. Davis had to say, but the notification speech by Senator Walsh of Montana is equally worthy of the public's most serious consideration.

Mr. Walsh's review of Mr. Davis' career reinforces the candidate's philosophy of liberalism with a "recid of things done." The Democratic nominee is a recently converted progressive. With abundant citations Mr. Walsh shows where and how Mr. Davis won his spurs in the cause of the public interest.

"In the Sixty-sixth Congress," said Mr. Walsh, "you were conspicuous in the advocacy of every measure that served to differentiate the reactionary from the progressive." Mr. Davis' incumbency of the office of Solicitor-General, with its larger opportunity to attack lawlessness and odious privilege, is a brighter chapter of the same character. Indeed, we are told by Mr. Walsh, who surely speaks with authority on the subject, that, if it had not been for Solicitor-General Davis' victory in the Mid-west company oil case and again in the case of the Diamond Coal Co., "there would have been little left of the naval oil reserves for Fall or anyone else to barter away."

So far as the American people are concerned a certificate of character requires no further validation than the signature of Montana's senior Senator. But in this instance, besides the signature, the certificate is documented with facts. Mr. Walsh goes further. He joins with Mr. Davis in the indictment of the administration's incomprehensible failure to appreciate the enormity of the corruption in the Cabinet. He informs us that Robinson, who "originated the idea of taking the oil out of the ground and storing it in tanks, to be paid for with two-thirds of the contents of the reserves, is still head of the Bureau of Engineering, to which the care of the reserves is entrusted." Again, Bain, Director of the Bureau of Mines, who, "with Fall, realized that there were objections to asking from the Attorney-General an opinion as to the validity of the leases," is still director of that bureau. And both of those bureaucrats will continue in office, if the Republican party is returned to power, and will again be custodians of those valuable properties should the Government succeed by litigation in recovering them. The necessity of a thorough housecleaning at Washington is clearly demonstrated by Senator Walsh, together with the present administration's disinclination or inability to do a workmanlike job of it.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN.

Nodaway County, Missouri, believes in good roads to the extent of employing six full-time road patrolmen, whose duty it will be to keep an eye on the roads and see to their maintenance. Railroads have always had their forces of trackmen, working all the time at the task of maintaining the right of way. It has not been left to chance or to depend on reports of trainmen as to the condition of the track. When a flaw is found it is promptly attended to.

There are still long stretches of highway in Missouri in such a bad condition that the children lose much school time because they cannot get to school at certain seasons. Missouri must first build good roads and then patrol them. The road patrolman ought to be as common a sight as the railroad trackman.

A SHOT AT GASOLINE PRICES.

It is instructive to note that since Attorney-General Barrett began proceedings for an investigation of gasoline prices in Missouri prices have fallen on an average of 2 cents a gallon. This is not enough, says the State's counsel, and he will proceed with the investigation.

The courts are slow and frequently impede justice with technicality. But as long as there is a possibility of legal punishment action by the State may be immediately rewarded on the initiative of the offending companies themselves.

As has been noted in these columns, Gov. Bryan of Nebraska accomplished a great deal in fighting monopoly in Nebraska by merely threatening to engage the State or, when he was Mayor, the city of Lincoln in business to compete with private monopoly.

city. A good stiff fine is a punishment for price-fixing, but how much does the public gain by it in terms of prices?

The bludgeon of the thing. Monopolies fear competition more than they fear courts and regulation. Missouri's legal machinery should make possible State competition for the protection of the consumer, when other measures fail. Meanwhile, a vigorous prosecutor, as Barrett has proved to be in antitrust cases, is a valuable asset. With gasoline prices ungoverned in Missouri the building of superfluous filling stations might go on indefinitely, with the consumer paying the bill.

SEIZING UNEARNED CREDIT.

In his acceptance address Mr. Davis, in moderate, restrained words, took a withering rap at the administration foreign policy by charging that Washington has been prompt to disclaim all responsibility for the participation of Americans in European councils but eager to take credit for whatever they might accomplish.

The answer of the Kansas City Star, intended to refute Mr. Davis' charge, only confirms it. The Star says: "Mr. Davis attacks the administration for having no foreign policy just at the time when, with American aid, Europe is on the eve of adopting the American Dawes report, the greatest move toward lasting peace since the armistice."

The "American Dawes report" is only fractionally American and only fractionally "Dawes." The two expert committees were composed of ten and five members respectively, all of them European except two. These two-Americans, Young and Dawes, were appointed not by this Government but by the Reparations Commission, on which we had only an "unofficial observer." At the time of the appointments and preliminary correspondence it was emphasized that the American Government would participate in no official way nor appoint representatives on the committees. All it did was to approve the participation of American economic experts in their private capacity.

Unofficial observation, "bootlegging participation," has been the keynote of the Republican foreign policy. Interest in collecting the foreign debts owed us and our share in reparations to pay the bill of our army of occupation has been the administration motive more than concern for the future peace of the world. But when there is to be any credit filched from our grudging, unofficial role in European reconstruction the administration press is on hand laden with flowers and buns.

The Tri-City State Bank of Madison, Ill., has been robbed three times in six years, each time for a lesser amount. That is progress.

PEACE WITHOUT VICTORY.

The town of Niles, O., has taken the expensive way of finding out the value of peace in the community. It is in a position now to show other communities the less costly way. The organization and activity of the Ku Klux Klan provoked the counter organization of the Knights of the Flaming Circle. The fiery crosses burned and the flaming circles flamed. Intolerance was met with intolerance until a climax was attained in broken heads and bloody noses. Massed battles were followed by frequent street fights. Peace of mind was at an end; security purchased only at the price of vigilance, courage and preparedness.

At last the people began to wake up to the uselessness and absurdity of the situation. They began to wish for peace and the undisturbed pursuit of living rather than the indulgence of hatred and the carrying on of a contention whose logical end, if not compromised, could be nothing but mutual extermination. The only thing to do, then, was to negotiate a treaty, agree to bury the hatchet and desist from burning circles and crosses.

The folks who started the fight are no better off than in the beginning. They have expended a good deal of emotion, to say nothing of material cost, merely to restore the status quo. Other communities could save themselves trouble and expense by doing away with the silly contention before it begins.

The psychiatrist's account of the mental life of Loeb and Leopold begins to reveal a perfect picture of thoroughly spoiled children.

THE CORONATION.

'Twas a night quite still and fair;
Heavy perfume filled the air
From the grape and trumpet vine
Quite as potent as the wine
From the dark and purple grape.
And the moon in rotund shape,
Like a mellow beacon light,
Ruled her empire of the night.
I remember her bright hair
Stirring softly in the air
As my fingers wrote a crown
Of delicious thistle down—
Light and soft and oh! so airy—
Fit for fay or elf or fairy.
As I sought a perfect gem
For thisylvan diadem
A rare diamond I found Flawless, pure, above the ground.
In the chalice of a flower,
And I knew the subtle power
Of a gem which flashed its light
In the darkness of the night.
So I took the drop of dew
For my crown so fresh and new
For my soft and airy crown
Of the silken thistle down.

For said I: "This jewel rare
Must compete with shining hair,
Must give forth a brighter light,
Or its luster lose tonight.
Oh! the witchery was there
In the perfume in the air
In the crickets' cheerful croon
In the magic of the moon.
Perfect night to crown a queen:
Perfect spot—a grassy green.
So I took my airy crown
Of the woven silken down
With its gem of sparkling dew
Of a brilliance strange and new
From the footstool at her feet
In its beauty so complete:
And I placed it on her hair
Moon and stars were centered there
And the glory of the night
And the pulses of delight.

THEODORE TRILSEY.

Sir: The experts for the defense at the Chicago trial seem to be making an effort to convince the Court that, while the two defendants are sane and knew what they were doing when they committed their terrible crime, yet for some reason they used very poor judgment.

The defense having plead guilty and thus admitting that the young men are legally sane, the experts carefully avoid using the word insanity as applied to them; but instead claim they are victims of psychosis, or mental sickness, due to the improper functioning of certain glands or from other obscure causes. The ordinary insanity plea was getting to be such a joke that something had to be done to save the situation, and the alienists have thus given proof of their great resourcefulness in evolving this term.

However, the criminal of the future, with little financial backing, will seldom be suspected of having defective glands; in fact, by some freak of nature he should be thrown on the world with a few of them missing; it will merely be his own misfortune.

If this case should drag along in the courts for several years, as it promises to do, owing to the money involved, then in the darkness of the night, might appropriately be shown holding an unbalanced scale, with a heavy purse resting in the lowered side, and with one eye left unbandaged, making sure that the purse was still there.

About the only convincing testimony which the alienists have given so far is that they are to receive $250 a day as a fee, and that should be enough to convince anyone who has heretofore had the least doubt as to the oratorical ability of currency.

I always tell the truth.
I have never been kissed before.

I have never heard the words "don't," "stop," "quit," etc.
I'm simply crazy about my mother-in-law.

I love to see all my boyhood friends gain a greater success than I have.
I'm going to give you a small political job when I'm elected.
I'll get you off easy when you are arrested for no auto lights, speeding, etc.

PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to give without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspapers and publicists on the questions of the day.

BY THE CLOUD ROUTE.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A CLEVELAND man has a new scheme speaking engagement at some 30 miles from this city, and he by plane to fill the engagement, minutes going, say an hour and a half, luncheon and speech and 45 minutes. Hardly more time than is consumed by lunch and a chess game in town. For day we shall wonder how slow people accept the plane as a method of everyday factor in transportation. An auto had to fight its way to public favor, and women still young will wonder. Progress in any field of human endeavor comes slowly at first. We are a skeptical, always demanding to be shown as a whole, the infant death rate, a spectacular achievement in the past, and as chief of industry, the service of mankind. Those who on backing a sure thing may with decency put their faith in aerial navigation. It is not only coming; it is here. Its infancy bears unmeasured promise.

OUR HATS OFF TO ENGLAND.
From the Dallas Dispatch.

IT'S customary to think of England as foggy, slummy sort of place, and an unwholesome in comparison with New York. But the bitter truth is that 40 out of every 1000 babies born in England died last year. In New York 40 out of every 1000 babies died. That's a difference of a thousand, and in the United States it was 77 out of a thousand. So the babies are concerned. In their fight for life, England is the land of opportunity. America could better afford to be unfriendly with England in trade, in armaments, than to be behind her in any other country when it comes to the safety of her babies.

DECLINE IN THE TITLE MARRIAGE.

From the Des Moines Register.

JUST after the war Canada asked the British that no more titles be used within her borders, and two years later South Africa followed with a similar quest. South Africa has now taken to end the business in that territory, and appears to be only a question of time before the dominions of the British Empire will be without peers or knights. The ultimately their influence will be lessened at home and cause the decline of coronets everywhere. One coronet, however, is the virtual buying of the modern market. Lord George, who has modernized knighthoods and has done to every grocer in the Empire, has added his goods to the Government. The war. The British are quite sure of the decline of their titles. The New York Guardian says the peerage is a thing to rich men who have financed the parties. Of course, there is some question whether it is not better to give titles, more empty names, than the public domain. But the British are over to our method, which has been the first any realm or distinction has.

HINES CHOSEN FOR CHIEF OF STAFF TO SUCCEED PERSHING

Major-General Whose Promotion Is Announced Won D. S. C. for Heroism in Battle.

NOLAN ADVANCED TO DEPUTY CHIEF

Both Officers Saw Active Service in Spanish and World Wars and Philippine Insurrection.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-23 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—When Gen. John J. Pershing retired, he will be succeeded as chief of staff by Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, who has been Deputy Chief of Staff since Dec. 5, 1932.

Gen. Hines, in turn, will be succeeded as Deputy Chief of Staff by Brig. Gen. Dennis E. Nolan, new Assistant Chief of Staff, in charge of the supply division. Announcement of the changes was made by Secretary of War Weeks yesterday. Both officers enjoy the distinction of having received the Distinguished Service Cross as well as the Distinguished Service Medal in recognition of their service during the World War, and each has many foreign decorations.

Maj. Gen. Hines accompanied Gen. Pershing as Adjutant General and Chief of Staff of the punitive expedition into Mexico in 1916-17. When Pershing was sent to France, he was accompanied by Hines, who served as Assistant Adjutant General of the expeditionary force and later successfully commanded a regiment, a brigade, a division and a corps in the fighting line. The distinction which accompanied the award of the Distinguished Service Cross to Gen. Hines reads: "For extraordinary heroism in action near Berry-le-Sec, France, July 11, 1918. At a critical moment during the battle southwest of Soissons, when Hines had been between the 16th and 26th Infantry and repeated efforts to re-establish it had failed, Gen. Hines, then in command of the First Infantry Brigade, personally went through terrific artillery fire to the front lines of the 16th Infantry, located its left flank, and, walking in front of the line, encouraged the troops by his example of fearlessness and disregard of danger. He then succeeded in finding the right forward elements of the 26th Infantry and directed the linking up of the two regiments, thereby enabling the operations to be pushed, and has successfully."

Hines is a West Virginian, having been born at White Sulphur Springs, May 21, 1867, and has eight years of active service remaining. Nolan will retain his rank as Brigadier General when he becomes Deputy Chief of Staff. He also was a member of Pershing's staff when the latter sailed for France in May, 1917, and served as chief of intelligence of the expeditionary force throughout the war.

Accompanying the first American army during the Meuse-Artois offensive in order to observe the operations of the intelligence service, he was assigned to command the intelligence of the 28th division, then actively engaged in the Aire Valley. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross "for extraordinary heroism in action."

He was born in Akron, N. Y., April 22, 1872. Both Hines and Nolan saw active service in the Spanish-American War and Philippine Insurrection.

WINCHESTER-SIMMONS CO. TO RETURN DEPARTMENT HERE

Purchasing Division Has Been Located in New Haven, Conn., Since 1922.
The purchasing department of the Winchester-Simmons Hardware Co. will be brought back to St. Louis from New Haven, Conn., to which it was moved in 1922, when the Winchester and Simmons companies were joined, said J. C. Colt, vice president and general manager of the concern, today. No date for removal had been decided, this resting with the decision of the directors. It may be a year or longer before the change is made. The object of bringing the purchasing department here is a closer affiliation of activities, combining purchasing with distribution, sales and general management at St. Louis, leaving production to the plant at New Haven. When the change is made, said Colt, it will make St. Louis the biggest buying center of hardware in the world.

DE MOLAY PROGRAM DRAWS MANY TO PARK

Boys Give Vaudeville Entertainment to Aid Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund.

Despite the cool weather a crowd of nearly 3500 persons attended the vaudeville entertainment for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund at Forest Park Highlands last night. The affair was sponsored by the Boys of the De Molay and members of that organization went from house to house to another following the performance, and ballyhooed with vim and enthusiasm, encouraging the crowds to spend their money and help the babies.

A 45-minute vaudeville bill from the big bandstand under the direction of Joe Brown of the Oscar Dane Studios held the attention of the early visitors to the "big place on the hill." Miss Donna Monroze, prima donna, and 18 Liberty Girls, by courtesy of Oscar Dane, manager of the Liberty Theater, opened the show at 7:15 o'clock. Then followed in rapid succession, Miss DeLia Chalmers, the dancer; Bobbi Bittick, the singer; the Le Vonn Sisters, dancers; Miss Lillian Bell, a baritone; the Vardo Trio, who with violin, saxophone and accordion offered intriguing jazz melody; and Miss Jane Drew, soprano. Birdie Sheridan, Koorie impersonator, in blonde wig and black sequin evening gown, sang the closing number of the thoroughly enjoyable bill.

De Molay Band Plays.
Following the vaudeville program the St. Louis Chapter, De Molay Brass Band gave a concert of popular dance music and led a grand march of the constantly increasing audience in a circle of the park. Later they played in Hilarity Hall and other concessions, and the Drum and Bugle Corps of the St. Louis Chapter, De Molay, paraded and played with half a hundred happy youngsters at their heels, until the entire park seemed to have caught the marching fever and fallen into step.

The St. Louis Chapter, De Molay, Brass Band included the following boys: Clarence Ziegler, director; Sherman, Charles Fulton, James Waller, Charles Schmidt, Leonard Priester, Eugene Goldberg, Earl T. Hall, William Moxter, Charles Kicker, Lester Jost, Charles Robson, Bruce Robertson, Newton Nickel, Edna Plange, Vernon Vallet, Carl Buettner, Edward Froek, Max Risch, Norman Risch, William Vogt, Roger Korschgen, Floyd Winer, Norman Falkenberg, Elmer Wagner, Harvey Gillingham, Gage Grob, Lester Forman, Oryus Howk, George Lay and Julius Ziegler, bandmaster.

The St. Louis Chapter Drum and Bugle Corps personnel was: Elmer Hoelzer, captain; Vincent J. Lutz, drum major; Kelly F. Woods, first sergeant; Louis May, quartermaster; Norman Hutchins, chief bugler; A. T. Ruff, instructor; Clinton McGue, Oscar Jennewein, O. F. Eisman, I. G. Schwartzman, William J. Berner, David D.

Transportation Furnished.
Transportation for the artists from the Liberty Theater was provided by F. W. A. Vesper of the Vesper-Bulck Automobile Company, who sent a fleet of 1935 model Buicks for the purpose.

Figures are not yet complete but it is estimated that the returns from last night's affair will approximate $1000, which will be of special assistance to the Ice Fund, which is lagging a behind its usual progress. And the biggest return of all, perhaps, is the one which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents—the practical application of the ideals exemplified in the teachings of the De Molay order.

NO "CLOSED SHOP" FOR ACTORS

Equity Votes to Allow Members in Casts With Nonmembers.
Social to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Actors' Equity Association yesterday dispelled apprehension of theater managers and producers of any intention of the association to force a "closed shop" on the strength of the Equity's recent victory whereby it won power to dictate casts composed entirely of Equity members. The Equity's council adopted a resolution permitting its members to work in the same casts with members of the Fidelity League in all productions. The action applies even to the "round robin" group of managers, who made the bitterest fight against the Equity. The association is expected to remove whatever of rancor may remain from the theater warfare and to restore peace and good will along the White Way.

Troy Department Helps Extinguish Blaze in Business Block.

WRIGHT CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—Fire, which started in the office of Haller and Davis, contractors, this morning, destroyed six business places in the main block of this village. The loss is estimated at about $20,000. A call for help was sent to Troy, Mo., and its fire-fighting apparatus made a run of 14 miles, over rough roads, in less than 20 minutes. This aid probably saved Wright City from more serious damage.

STATE CLOSES IN SUIT AGAINST MILLMEN

Corporation Returns Placed in Record by Attorney-General Barrett.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 12.—The State closed its introduction of testimony in the anti-trust suit, pending in Supreme Court against the St. Louis Millmen's Association, by placing in the record, at a hearing here today, the corporation returns of the defendants and those of nonmember planing mills in St. Louis, in an effort to show the association members dominated the planing mill business in St. Louis.

Attorneys for the millmen sought a delay until early September to introduce the testimony of expert economists in rebuttal to such testimony already introduced by the State. This was strongly opposed by Attorney-General Barrett on the ground that such a delay might prevent argument and submission of the case at the October term of the Supreme Court, for which the case now is docketed.

Barrett's Argument. Attorney-General Barrett pointed out that his term, and that of Assistant Attorney-General Henry Davis, who has assisted him in the case, expires Jan. 1, and delay, which would throw the case beyond the October term, would result in its passing into the hands of a new Attorney-General unfamiliar with the case, which has been pending since 1921.

Commissioner Shackelford set the next hearing for Aug. 25, in Jefferson City, and stated the attorneys on both sides could agree at that time on a date for taking evidence of the defense's economists.

Charles Houts, of defense counsel, said he planned to call two economists, neither of whom was available at present, and one would not return to St. Louis until Sept. 1.

Testimony for State. The State recently took the testimony of expert economists at Washington and New York, who testified that the plan, under which the millmen's association operated, presented opportunities for restraint of trade. The defense today indicated a motion was being prepared in St. Louis to be filed in Supreme Court soon, asking the court to strike out this testimony on the ground it was incompetent and invaded the province of the court.

Corporation returns introduced by Attorney-General Barrett today showed the capital and surplus of the various planing mill companies of St. Louis on which their franchise taxes are based. The returns of the 16 defendants in the anti-trust suit showed a total of $2,875,345 in capital and surplus, compared to a total of $1,565,732 for 10 companies operating there that are not members of the association.

Will It Wash?

White satin underthings

White satin underthings—trousers, skirts, and nightgowns and step-ins of white satin with Valenciennes lace. How can I keep them from getting dull and yellow when they are washed?—C. P., St. Louis, Mo.

Of course you want to keep your dainty trousseau underthings white and lustrous! When they are laundered, just remember that extreme heat and soap left in the fabric are what turn satin yellow. Rubbing destroys its bloom and lustre. Dissolve thoroughly 2 tablespoonsful of Lux in hot water. Add cold water until the suds are lukewarm. Now squeeze the suds gently through the garments. Rinse in several lukewarm waters—until all soap is gone. A little bluing in the last rinse water will help keep your underthings white. Squeeze water out—satin must never be wrung—then roll in a towel. Press, while damp, on the wrong side with a warm—not hot—iron. Another important thing—Never put them in a hamper to wait until washday to be laundered. They should be washed as soon as you take them off—after each wearing.

Cape overblouse with colored piping

Would I dare wash a white silk cape overblouse with embroidered monogram and piping in lacquer red?—L. C., Philadelphia, Pa.

You cannot be absolutely sure that colored embroidery and piping will not run, without testing the under side of the cuff.

Make a light suds in your wash bowl with one tablespoonful of Lux in hot water. Let in cold water until the suds are lukewarm. Now wash the cape and blouse in the suds, rubbing gently with your fingers. Rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water, the same temperature of the suds. Squeeze the water out, without wringing. Roll in a soft, clean cloth to dry, taking care that the embroidery and piping do not touch the surface. While still damp, press on the wrong side with a warm iron. Never use a hot iron on silk or satin. A cape blouse will shrink if it dries before it is ironed.

LITTLE CHANGE ALONG RHINE SINCE HERRIOT IS PREMIER
Two-Thirds of Expelled Germans Permitted to Return But French Grip Is Not Relaxed.
Special Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
BERLIN, Aug. 12.—There has been very little change in the occupied area along the Rhine since Edouard Herriot became Premier of the French Republic. It is true, however, that there is a somewhat different spirit from that shown under Poincare's stinging whip. Two-thirds of the Germans expelled from the area have received permission to return but the grip of the French has not relaxed in the slightest.
Colored troops still guard the customs frontier on the right bank of the Rhine and French officials collect export duties from former neutrals or former allies. Americans not excepted. French agents under the protection of French bayonets collect railroad fares on German railroads in the occupied area. In the British zone of occupation Cologne is still surrounded by French troops. Trains from Cologne to Berlin are searched by the French for taxable wares as soon as they cross the British line. Thousands of French troops are still quartered in the schools, public buildings and homes. Germans along the Rhine say they think the French have not the slightest intention of leaving and that the expelled railroad men can not return because the French and Belgian railroad employees still live in their homes.
The Germans say also that the "Micum" agreement, combined with the system of licenses and export duties, aggravate the general German deflation crisis so that the Rhine and the Ruhr areas have to face a serious unemployment problem. For the first time in years, however, Germany is optimistic because it believes that some progress is being made toward peace along the Rhine.

COSGRAVE GIVES DAIL BILL FOR BOUNDARY COMMISSION
Irish President's Measure Aimed to Ratify Agreement With MacDonald.
DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—President Cosgrave has introduced in the Dail Eireann a bill, similar to that presented in the House of Commons, providing for the setting up of a boundary commission, under article 12 of the Irish treaty, for delimitation of the boundary between Ulster and the Irish Free State. This bill also is for the purpose of ratifying President Cosgrave's agreement with the British Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald.
The Dail voted 64 to 16 in favor of a first reading of the bill. The new national group voted for the motion on receiving Cosgrave's promise that the measure would not be preceded with until their bill had been passed. Cosgrave announced that, when the Dail had dealt with this bill, he proposed to move adjournment until Oct. 21. In the course of his speech, he denounced what he described as persistent misrepresentation and repeated falsehoods circulated by the anti-Irish press.

Read and Reflect
If you or any of your family, or friends are afflicted with Piles, read Mr. Rickaby's letter. His experience and advice is worth more to you than that of any or all others on the subject of getting cured, and how to do it. He had been operated on and received no benefit whatever. Hindered upon hundreds of sufferers are being influenced to go to the hospital and undergo an operation, with all its expenses and dangers, when a cure can be obtained without either. Remember it may take a little longer time, but the cure is sure, safe and sound.
Read the many letters from former patients that I publish in the newspapers, in my book and the facsimile letters. They are positive proof of the cures I am effecting.

ROTH PLANS COURT ACTION TO BLOCK SEATING OF BENDER Defeated Candidate for Committee-man Considers Quo Warranto Proceedings.
Constable Gabe Roth, defeated for re-election as Fifth Ward Republican City Committeeman by A. Samuel Bender, lawyer, by a vote of 1131 to 1080, is considering filing of quo warranto proceedings in the State Supreme Court to prevent Bender acting as committeeman.
The allegation would be that Bender was not a resident of the ward. The 1923 city directory the last issued, lists Bender as residing at 423 Laurel avenue. He declared he established a residence on Franklin avenue, in the Fifth ward, and registered as a voter there, before filing for the committee.
Mrs. Cassie Harris, a negro committeewoman of the Fifth Ward, is a member of Roth's organization in the ward and likely would follow his suggestion on matters before the committee, thus nullifying Bender's vote. If he retains his post.

MINISTER SEEKS SENATE SEAT
NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—The Rev. James K. Shields today resigned as New Jersey superintendent of the Antislavery League to become a candidate for United States Senator.
He said that, if Hamilton F. Kean, Republican national committeeman, defeated the incumbent, E. Edge for the Republican nomination, he will withdraw his own candidacy. He explained that he sincerely believes "in the existence of an agreement between certain wet Democratic and Republican leaders of this State, to secure the nomination of Walter E. Edge by Democratic wet votes in the Republican primary." Mr. Shields' work in the Antislavery League began 17 years ago, in Illinois. For 11 years he had been the New Jersey head of the organization.

"This can't apply to me!"
A RATHER unusual advertisement had caught her eye and set her wondering. It talked about something she had never heard discussed among the people she knew—not even the most intimate of her girl acquaintances.
But it set her thinking.
Maybe this was the thing that was holding her back with the men she wanted most to attract—a thing that had never before entered her mind.
That's the insidious thing about hair loss (unpleasant, isn't it). You, yourself, rarely know when you have it. And even your closest friends won't tell you.
Sometimes, of course, hair loss comes from some deep-seated organic disorder that requires professional advice. But usually—and fortunately—hair loss is only a local condition that yields to the regular use of Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. It is an interesting thing that this well-known antiseptic that has been in use for years for surgical dressings, possesses these unusual properties as a hair restorer.
Test the remarkable deodorizing effects of Listerine this way: Rub a little ointment on your fingers. Then apply Listerine and note how quickly the ointment disappears.

COOLIDGE REPUDIATES POLITICAL CIRCULAR

Slomp's Letter Refers to "Religious War" Appeal as Product of Twisted Mind.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK Aug. 12.—President Coolidge, through his secretary, C. Bascom Slomp, has repudiated a circular distributed in Brooklyn, urging support of Coolidge and Dawes as a religious issue, Herman Bernstein, editor of the Jewish Tribune, announced last night.

Bernstein had sent the President a photographic copy of the circular signed by the National Protestant Fundamental Christian Association, and reading in part: "This election is a religious war; Catholics and Jews combined against Protestantism."

Secretary Slomp's letter to Bernstein follows:
"Am very much obliged to you for your letter of Aug. 1 to the President. It is, of course, utterly impossible to guess whether these circulars are inspired by some fanatical person, who, with a strangely twisted mind, imagines that this sort of thing would help the President, or whether, as seems more probable, they are circulated by people who wish to injure the President."

"They had never before been brought to my attention, and it is hard for me to believe they have been circulated very generally. Probably there is no way of preventing people with such strange minds from doing things of this sort; and I do not need to say to you that neither the President nor anybody with any authority to represent him ever heard of this matter or would want any other attitude towards it than that of unqualified disapproval."

INDEPENDENCE BANK HELD UP

Special to the Post-Dispatch
INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Aug. 12.—Several men held up the First National Bank here today shortly after the doors were opened and obtained all the money in sight in the cashier's cage and escaped. The exact amount of cash taken has not been determined.

Four officers of the bank and six customers were commanded to lay on the floor while the cage was looted by four of the men. The escape was made in an automobile in which one or two other robbers had waited.

Garage to Be Built in Gasometer.

Correspondence of the Associated Press
BERLIN, Aug. 4.—A large disused gasometer is to be converted into a garage in Berlin. It will be 10 stories high, with a spiral roadway 25 feet wide encircling it. Each floor will have "stalls" for 100 cars and 50 motor cycles arranged in circular form, the center being devoted to repair shops. Passenger lifts will also be installed.

HOW TRAGEDIES MAY BE AVOIDED

Summer's greatest danger

Health Authorities Everywhere Urge Quick Attention to Minor Injuries

THE skin has become soft and tender during the winter. Hard vacation play brings blisters, tiny scratches by the score and sores of a dozen causes. A bit of venomous dirt lodges in the broken skin.

If neglected—then that terrifying possibility—blood poisoning. Prompt antiseptic cleansing is the safeguard.

A clean injury rarely becomes infected.

Use Lifebuoy, the Health Soap

A prick from a fish hook; a cut from a tin can, nail or bit of broken shell; scratches from thorns or twigs; broken blisters—all should be bathed promptly and often with Lifebuoy. Don't take a chance by waiting. Don't take a chance by using any kind of soap. Every doctor will tell you that the tiniest break in the skin is really dangerous—an open door to infection.

The lather of Lifebuoy with its mild, antiseptic health ingredients, penetrates into cuts and removes dirt and germs.

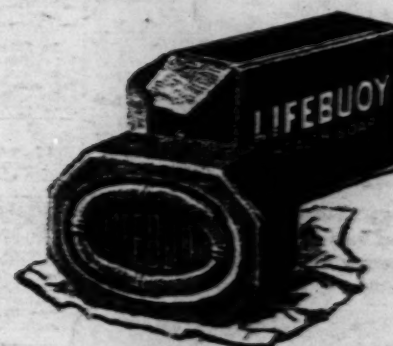

An added precaution that the wise will take is to apply a strong antiseptic, like iodine, too.

How to guard children

Children rarely pay much attention to little scratches and bruises. That is why habitual washing of hands, knees and feet with Lifebuoy is so necessary. Forgotten cuts and scratches are kept antiseptically clean and at the same time the skin benefits because Lifebuoy is so pure and gentle.

Lifebuoy is not for the medicine cabinet. It is for the wash basin and bath tub, for every-day family protection. You will like it better than any other soap after you have used it a week. Add a dozen of Lifebuoy to your grocery order today, and never be without it. Make this summer one of health-building—not of danger.

on the method of the rural out described above. Mothers must be assured that their children will be looked after every hour of the day. And, then, the total cost of the service must be within reach relief from responsibility of car ing for a six-year-old in a crowded

The arrangements of the coun functional advantage. A half mile walk from the car line leads them to a forest preserve, with tall, shady groves, uncut

the crude materials necessary

How significant it would be if parents could follow and the children and mere witnesses of the happy day being passed by the

MEDITATIONS
—OF A—
MARRIED WOMAN
By HELEN ROWLAND

Feminism and Femininity.
THE last word was spoken, and the last triumphant note sounded in Feminism, when the women lawyers of America decided to dis card man's clothes, and go back to frills and femininity.
This may sound paradoxical; but it proves that woman is no longer afraid, and she doesn't have to "whistle in the dark" by dis guising herself as a man.
Woman has discovered, at last, that her strength lies not in her likeness to man—but in her difference from him.
Woman may be man's equal, but she is NOT his counterpart;
and when you look at him, why should she WANT to be?
It takes two halves to make the perfect whole; and the world needs feminine subtlety, finesse, and intuition as much as it needs mas culine force and vigor.
What it needs, now, more than anything else on earth, is femi nine tact, patience and endurance to give it balance.
The woman who took a man's name and wore three-ply collars, when she went into a profession was not really brave, she was a coward trying to hide behind a man's trousers.
A woman can accomplish more and go farther in business, in pretty shoes, than she can in heavy brogans.
A woman can have just as much brains under a curly head of hair as she can under a flat straight bob.
A woman can win her point with a judge far more quickly with a glittering and gracious smile, than with a cold argument—or even cold facts.
A becoming, feminine frock doesn't weaken the logic of a wom an lawyer's plea, nor make her appeal to the jury any less effective.
The day has passed, when men confused presence of beauty with absence of mind, and feminine charm with lack of intelligence.
They have learned, at last, that a woman can think just as clear ly and brilliantly under a picture hat as under a mannish sailor.
That she can carry a vanity case in one hand, and a brief case in the other, and quite a punch in both.
And that she can hold onto her job, her profession and her femininity with the SAME hand—and grab a husband with the other.
Oh yes, they have!
And, it only remained for woman herself, to find out that it was really no disgrace to be a WOMAN!
It doesn't do a kitten any good to try to look like a tiger.
It only makes it look FUNNY!

Children's Stories :: Household Hints

Children's Bedtime Story ::
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The Old Pasture Entertains

The timid, bold retiring, proud
You'll find wherever you find a crowd.

Peter Rabbit.

"Pray pass, neighbor Coyote," said
Reddy in his most polite manner

It was, midsummer and blue berries were ripe in the Old Pasture. Nowhere else did the blueberries grow so big, so blue and so plentiful. And there were the raspberries and the blackber ries and the thimbleberries. So the Old Pasture entertained many visitors. At no other time in all the year did so many people visit the Old Pasture. There were all kinds of people—big people, lit tle people, middle-sized people, people in feathers and people in fur, and some who wore neither feathers nor fur.
Not all were there after ber ries. No, indeed. Some were there in the hope of catching others who were there after the berries. The nesting season for most of the birds was over and their home duties were ended.
There was no reason why they should not spend as much time as they choose in the Old Pasture.
So those who liked berries spent considerable time there. Some of the Green Forest people who wear fur had children big enough to follow them out into the Great World, and so family parties vis ited the Old Pasture. So day after day the Old Pasture entertained.
Old Jed Thumper, the gray old Rabbit, who had lived so long in the Old Pasture that he consid ered that it belonged to him, didn't like it. There were al together too many people about. So Old Jed Thumper kept pretty close to his bull briar castle.
Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote, who live in different parts of the Old Pasture and through most would happen when they met, and he became quite excited.

Down the old cowpath trotted
Old Man Coyote. Up the old cow path trotted Reddy Fox. There was a little bend in the path which prevented each from seeing the other. Peter fairly hugged him self with excitement as he saw that they would meet right on that bend and right in front of where he was sitting. He won dered if he would see a fight. I am sorry to say that he rather hoped he would.
Reddy Fox came around that bend from down the old cowpath, and Old Man Coyote came around the bend from up the old cow path. They met face to face.
Peter held his breath. Both stopped. Then Reddy Fox jumped lightly to one side. "Pray, pass, Neighbor Coyote," said Reddy in his most polite manner.
Old Man Coyote trotted on. He hardly glanced at Reddy Fox. He acted exactly as if he thought him self lord of the Old Pasture and that every one would step aside for him. Reddy Fox looked after Old Man Coyote and snarled. But he took pains that Old Man Coyote didn't hear that snarl. Only Peter Rabbit heard it. Then Red dy Fox trotted on up the old cow path.

Sour Cream Waffles.

Mix together one cup of flour,
one teaspoon of baking powder and one-half teaspoon of salt; add the yolks of two eggs, beaten un til thick and light, and one cup of thick, sour cream; add three table spoons of melted butter and beat the batter until stiff and dry. Cook in an electric waffle iron on the breakfast table. This is a small recipe and may be doubled if ne cessary. Serve with lemon syrup.

HOUSEHOLD
SUGGESTIONS

When Washing Eggs.
Eggs are apt to become straggly looking if washed a num ber of times. Try adding a cup of strong coffee to the rinse water and see how it will brighten up the faded appearance.

Cake Baking.
When baking a layer cake put it into a cold oven and allow it to heat with the oven. Do not open the oven door for five minutes after the cake is placed therein or the jar of the door is likely to cause the cake to fall.

Laundering Lace.
Dip the lace up and down in warm soap suds. Rinse and squeeze gently. Then place on a Turkish towel, cover with a clean cloth and iron on the cloth until the lace is dry. It will look like new if this method is employed.

Cures Hoarseness.
A hoarse voice is hard to lose and very unpleasant to the possessor.
Try this remedy: Cut a lemon in half and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Eat with a spoon as you would an orange. Not quite so pleasant, perhaps, but it will re lieve the hoarseness.

The news about CHIPSO
travels fast

It's easier!

A FEW MONTHS AGO, Chipso was first introduced. Today thou sands prefer it to any other soap they have ever used. Why? Because Chipso is easier—convincingly easier! One woman tells another.
Chipso results are a joy. Clean, sweet-smelling clothes with much less effort! Washing done quicker, clothes hung out earlier! No more Tuesday morning ironing. No long rubbing away strength at a washboard.
(Only very soiled places require any rubbing with Chipso.)
Chipso is a new form of soap—quick sudsing, quick acting, quick rin ing, and the very essence of safety to colors and fabrics. Clothes washed in Chipso require, at most, very infrequent boiling.
See the beautiful, snow-white, tissue-thin flakes—at your grocer's. Be rid forever of chipping, shaving and melting of old-fashioned soap!
Chipso is here to save your time and strength.

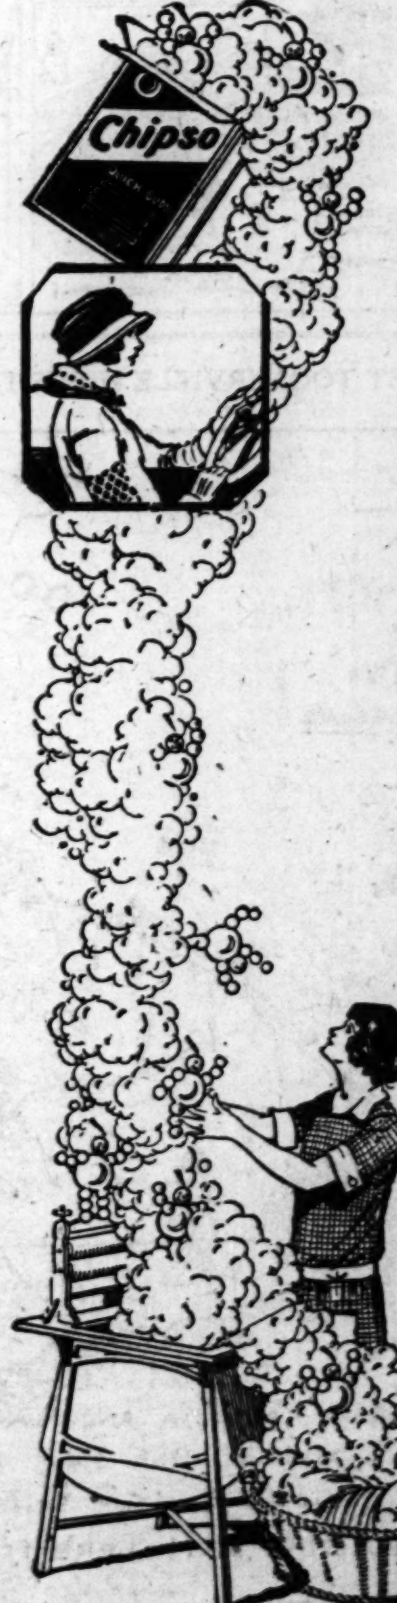

PROCTER & GAMBLE
Makers of Ivory Soap and Ivory Flakes

Whatever way you wash, Chipso makes it easier

- Easier for soaking—Chipso's instant suds loosen every atom of dirt. The less soiled clothes can be soaked, rinsed and hung right out.
Easier for boiling—if you like to boil your clothes—about once a month is ample—with Chipso.
Easier for rinsing—Chipso dissolves completely. Its wonderful suds rinse out quickly and thoroughly—no soap particles remain. Leaves clothes snowy white, spotless and sweet-smelling.
Easier for washing machines—no chipping, shaving, or melting of cake-soap. Suds in no time. Chipso won't clog up the mechanism.
Easier for dishwashing and house hold cleaning—makes instant suds
—loosens dirt, just grease, waxes like magic.

Look for the blue package with the diagonal orange stripes—in two big sizes—at your grocer's—trial package, surprisingly large, too.

CAN HAPPEN.
A CERTAIN young man named Gilfeather
Asked "How do you like this hot weather?"
But the sun hotly burned
And the worm on him turned.
And they gathered the pieces together.

Tough Luck.
THERE was a young fellow named Willie,
Who courted a flapper named Tillie;
She had her hair bobbed
And she sighed and she sobbed
When he said that it made her look silly.

TOO TRUE.
Bobbing hair is like buying a pig
In a poke as the feller says. You can't tell what it is going to look like until it has been done.

Better save the switch, girls, so you can take the sidetrack in case of accidents.

How about a tournament to decide the mah jongg championship of the world?

Devotees of mah jongg claim that their favorite sport knocks
the spots out of dominoes.

The Fire Department still sticks to checkers, but the old game has never been the same since the passing of the cracker barrel at the corner grocery.

Chess is a nice little game for those who are legally dead. It would take three months to show a slow-motion picture of a one-hour chess game.

But it is no game for dumbbells,
dum dora and dumb waiters.
Takes a guy with high brain pressure and low blood pressure to play chess.

CAPITAL IDEA.
The straw hat season ought to be extended to about Oct. 5. Then we could throw our old straw hats in the air at the world's series and start in next year with a fresh one.

Unless purchased late in the season, a brought-forward straw cady doesn't amount to much, anyway.

WHY NOT?
If monkeys we have quite a few,
A hippo and some sebras, too;
But I would laugh and laugh and laugh
If we should get a nice giraffe.

QUITE SO.
The five inebriated crows that tipped off a moonshine still in Pennsylvania must have been full of Old Crow.

OLD SONGS MADE NEW.
OR it's always fair weather
When good fellows gather together.

With a flask on the table
And the white rock standing near.

FAREWELL ROMANCE.
We claim that there is no romance in drinking when you have to sneak it out of your hip pocket and dump it in a glass. Gone are the days.

Follette or Lafol-et, he is looking forward to a pronounced victory in the fall.
